CANADY'S CHRONICLE

Each Sunday, there are three lectionary passages that I often read during our worship (at times maybe only two.) Each Sunday, one of those passages is used as the scripture on which the message is based. The problem is, there is good information in those passages not chosen, which we miss unless we go home and read them for ourselves.

Looking ahead for October 2, there are great words in the 137th Psalm that is part of the lectionary. I am hoping that you will take the time to read that passage for yourself, but I also want to speak about it in this chronicle:

The people of Israel fought in a battle against the Edomites and lost. At the end of that battle, the Edomites are quoted as saying, "Tear it down! Tear it down!" That is, tear down the temple in Jerusalem. And it was torn down, and many of the people of Israel were taken captive and taken to the land of Babylon. There, they lament about their situation and pray that in their captivity they not forget their homeland. When asked by their captors to sing a song of their homeland, they lament to God that such an activity is not possible in a foreign land. At the same time, they are praying that in their captivity they will not forget where they came from and the wonders of their blessed Jerusalem.

The power of the Psalms is that they show people of the ancient past as those who have the same feelings, hurts and pains as we do. In their sorrow for Jerusalem, the Israelites voice their deep anger against their captors: "O daughter Babylon, you devastator! Happy shall they be who pay you back what you have done to us! Happy shall they be who take your little ones and dash them against the rock!" Revenge is heavy upon their hearts, and they won't be satisfied until they can get even. The sense is that the good guys will win in the end by the enemy getting what is coming to them. Revenge can take many forms.

We live in a society that puts revenge and getting even at the top of our priorities. If someone harms us, then we won't feel good until we can harm them back (we call that war sometimes). But I am here to tell us that revenge is not the way of God. God is not in the business of getting even. Jesus calls us to love our enemies: "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' But I say to you, 'Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you,' so that you may be children of God in heaven; for he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the righteous and on the unrighteous."

As hard as those words are to follow, we do so because the ways of God are far better for our world than the ways of the world. We want to honor the words in Psalm 137, but we also want to measure them against the words of Jesus.

--Pastor Don Canady

Upcoming Forum Classes

"Hunger in Hastings: A Sabbatical Research Report and a New Solution" led by Dr. Jean Heriot, Hastings College; and Brian Winfield, United Methodist Church.

Even with the Open Table, the food pantry, Catholic Social Services, etc., many Hastings residents still deal regularly with food shortage. Dr. Heriot will present her sabbatical research on this sad reality. Additionally, Mr. Brian Winfield will describe the vision and logistics behind the new United Harvest mobile food pantry operating out of our Annex.

Oct 2, 9:15a.m, Fellowship Hall.

"Protest and Resistance: From Jesus to Colin Kaepernick" led by Kili Wenburg; Dr. Gary Johnson, Hastings College Academic Dean; and Dr. Mark Zajack, Hastings College psychology professor. Colin Kaepernick's kneeling during the national anthem has garnered strong reactions nationwide, both positive and negative. During this Forum class, participants will consider biblical stories of protest and resistance and then apply those themes to today's protest movement initiated by Kaepernick.

Oct. 9, 9:15 a.m., Fellowship Hall

A Little Friendly Competition with the Methodists...

- Which church can raise the most funds (per capita) for the upcoming CROP Walk?
- Losing congregation provides donuts for volunteers at the October United Harvest distribution!

Inspired by our work on the United Harvest Mobile Food Pantry with our First United Methodist Church (FUMC) neighbors, the FPC Mission Committee issued to FUMC the challenge stated above. The challenge has been accepted, so we have to get to work!

The real winners in this challenge will be hungry teenagers in Hastings and wounded, suffering refugees world-wide.

Taize Prayer Service This Sunday: October 2, 7 p.m., Parlor

- An opportunity to connect intimately and personally with God, supported by the community of faith around you
- Beautiful, meditative, prayerful music
- Contemplative, candlelit atmosphere
- 30-45 minute service
- Led by Kili Wenburg, liturgist; Mary Plock, piano; Sarah Fruehling, vocals.

Taize Testimonial: "The Taize service has always been one of my favorite services for spiritual contemplation. In our busy, crazy, scheduled lives, it's such a needed break to be quiet, calm and peaceful in our minds and souls. It is in these moments of quiet stillness that I am most able to connect with the divine and discern my spiritual path. I appreciate First Presbyterian Church's commitment to connect and uplift our members through a variety of services." --Sarah Fruehling

It's not too late to join in the Bible@Breakfast discussions!

On Wednesday mornings at 7 a.m. in the Parlor, early birds enjoy donuts and good conversation, and you can join them! The group is discussing the book Living the Questions: The Wisdom of Progressive Christianity. Sincerely living a life of faith often leads to wrestling with difficult questions, and this group is not afraid to thoughtfully, honestly, compassionately wrestle together.

If a brother or sister is naked and lacks daily food, and one of you says to them, "Go in peace; keep warm and eat your fill," and yet you do not supply their bodily needs, what is the good of that?
So faith by itself, if it has no works, is dead.

-James 2:15-17
