The Good Samaritan: A Call to Love Our Neighbors

Dear First Presbyterian Church Family:

On Sunday we heard the Spiro Spero singers and some amazing musicians share the beautiful “Misa Criolla” by Ariel Ramírez and we reflected on the familiar parable of the Good Samaritan in the gospel of Luke. If you missed this incredible service or just want to experience it again, you can watch it by clicking here: <https://fb.watch/tVNVZU9PeI/> (you don’t need a Facebook account to watch this video)

In the parable of the Good Samaritan, Jesus upholds the Samaritan, who would normally be viewed as an outcast, as the hero in the story for being a good neighbor to the man who he encounters beaten on the side of the road. This story, rich in meaning and challenge, has resonated with Christians for centuries, urging us to extend love and compassion beyond the boundaries of familiarity and comfort. The Samaritan's actions demonstrate a radical, boundary-crossing love that defines true neighborliness.

Reflecting on this parable, I was reminded of Wendell Berry's poignant words: "Do unto those downstream as you would have those upstream do unto you." This quote beautifully encapsulates the interconnectedness of our lives. Just as the Samaritan acted out of a deep sense of shared humanity, we too are called to consider how our actions—or inactions—affect those around us, particularly those who are vulnerable and marginalized.

This October, our church has a unique opportunity to put these teachings into practice during our Music and Mission Trip to the U.S.-Mexico Border. In partnership with Frontera de Cristo, we will journey to the border October 16-21 to meet and learn from our neighbors who live in the shadow of policies and practices that often ignore their dignity and humanity. As we serve, sing, and listen; we will explore what it means to love our neighbors as ourselves. Members of our choir will be going to sing, but you don’t have to be a singer to come on this trip. You just need to bring your curiosity and a desire to share the love of Christ. To learn more about the trip or to sign up, see the flyer in our newsletter or call the church office at 402-462-5147.

Continued

Just as the Samaritan's compassion led him to act, so too are we invited to step out of our comfort zones and into the lives of those who may be different from us. By doing so, we live out Jesus' command to "go and do likewise" (Luke 10:37). I hope you will consider joining us on this transformative trip, where we will not only bring the gift of music but also receive the profound wisdom and resilience of our sister and brothers at the border. Let us seek to embody the love of Christ, loving others as He loves us.

Your Servant in Christ,

Pastor Greg
