Looking For Questions

Many have noticed but I'll just say it plain. When given a chance, I like to leave a lot of silence in a worship service. Almost immediately after I started helping to lead worship services here at First Presbyterian Church people noticed that the time for silent confession had grown almost exponentially. And there are a few reasons as to why I like a good time of silence so much. The first is that I find there is a lot of noise in the world having a few moments of silence can be quite peaceful and refreshing for all of us. The second is a bit more personal. During a worship service I spend a lot of time talking and it is important for me to be encouraged to listen as well. But the most critical reason is this: it is important to sit with the question.

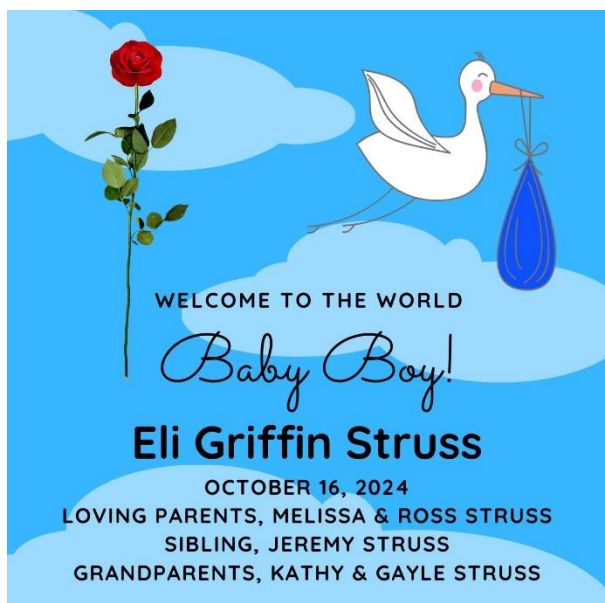

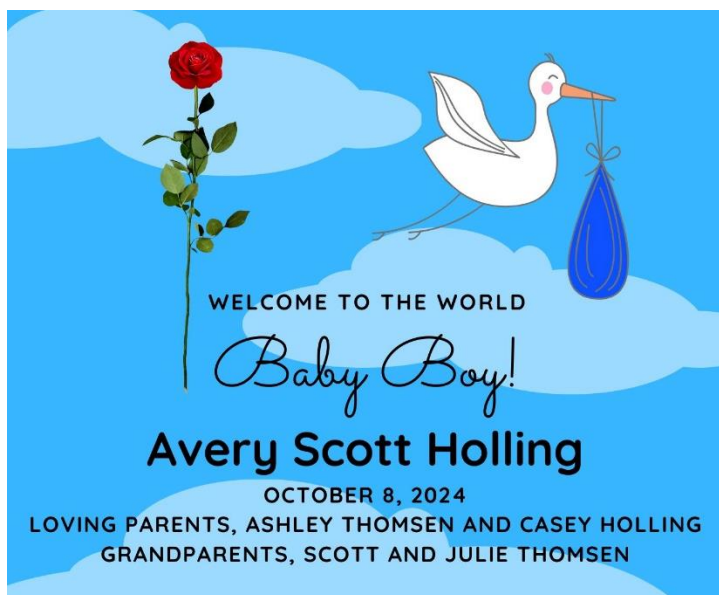

Sitting with a question; turning it over, wrestling with it, and exploring all of its intricacies and implications leads to a depth that we cannot and do not find when we rush to answers or quickly retreat to talking points and known perspectives. Taking the time to sit (or stand or walk or talk) and ponder is an increasingly scarce skill but it is a skill that, when used well, often uncovers hidden depths of knowledge and insight about our God, ourselves, and the world around us.

Over the past month and a half, as a congregation, we have sat with one fundamental question; how are people of faith called to engage with the political realm? And this question has led other equally important and equally interesting questions: What does it mean to recognize that everyone is created in the image of God? What if they aren't acting like it? What if I'm not acting like? Whose voice do I hear most often? Can I admit that I may be wrong? Have I created any idols lately? To what do I give my ultimate allegiance? None of these questions are simple. None of these questions lead to easy answers and it has been a pleasure to witness as people of faith have sat with them in all earnestness and honesty over the course of the last six weeks.

I understand that many people approach faith and Sunday mornings with an eye towards discovering answers. Though, to be honest, I suspect that we may be better served to approach faith with an eye towards discovering questions. The better our questions and the longer that we sit with them the more we may be able to sink down into our faith and into our God. I wonder, what question is God calling you to discover?

Peace and all good,

Rev. Damen Jensen-Heitmann

Thank you for your donation towards the Hastings CROP Walk held October 13, 2024, a beautiful day. So far, First Presbyterian Church of Hastings has raised $1,200 for a combined total from the walk being close to $6,000.

We honored the late Frank Medsker and his family. Frank participated each year since CROP Hunger Walk started and donated his age in dollars.

Money is still being collected. With your donation we are able to make a better contribution to CHURCH WORLD SERVICES, providing food, cleaner water, and help educate those in need throughout the world. The many devastating tragedies have made us aware of the need and help the Church World Services to provide worldwide with our donations.

25% of our Hastings walk will go to Open Table in Hastings.

Thank you,
Sponsored by Church Women United of Hastings and Juniata area.

Meal Train for the Ellerbee family

On October 8, Myste and Kevin Ellerbee welcomed their son, Neylan into the world.

Big brothers James and Lennon are excited!

Let's support the Ellerbee family by sharing some meals with them.

Below is the link to sign up to provide a meal.

Would you like to be more involved in the church and help us be a community of hope and love? The nominating committee of First Presbyterian Church will be meeting in November to find our new class of church officers in 2025 which includes elders, deacons, and trustees. If you think God might be calling you to serve in a leadership role at the church, please reach out to the church office or the nominating committee chair, Robin Koozer by November 2.

What does the Lord Require of CW-You?

Celebrations 2024 Theme Scripture

"...the Lord has told you what is good, and this is what he requires of you: to do what is right, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God." Micah 6:8 (NLT)

Thank you

The 2024 coat drive/give away was another huge success. Thank you all who donated. If you still want to donate you can drop them off for the 2025 give away. We also have people in the community though out the winter still in need.

Our Church is blessed to have some wonderful youth to help organize for the event. Thank you all, it's a huge help! A lot of truth to: Many hands make light work. Thank you all!

I hope your hearts are warmed as much as we warmed other hearts and bodies with the 130 coats that now have a new home.

Thank you,
Mission Committee
